

KUNSTHALL 3.14

3.14 READ:

Possible Lectures regarding the exhibition with Sea Hyun Lee:

➤ Landscape Painting Now By Barry Schwabsky

The Glorious Life of the Oak explores our long relationship with this iconic tree; it considers the life-cycle of the oak, the flora and fauna that depend on the oak. Medicine, food and drink and tells stories from folklore, myth and legend.

➤ Imagine Science; Iconology, Visual Culture and Media Aesthetics (2015) By W.J.T. Mitchell

Essential for those involved with any aspect of visual media, Image Science is a brilliant call for a method of studying images that overcomes the “two-culture split” between the actual human sciences.

➤ Losing an Enemy, Obama, Iran, and the Triumph of Diplomacy. (2017) av Trita Parsi

The story of how dogged diplomacy and some good luck took us from that low point to a deal that few could have imagined is one worth telling. Trita Parsi, president of the National Iranian American Council, who had the advantage of access to high-level participants on both sides, tells it well in his new book.

➤ Foreign Affairs; The New Nationalism (Marsh/April 2019, volume 98, nr. 2) By Fukuyama & his Critics on Identity Politics

Nationalism’s largely unpredicted resurgence is sobering. This is a collective of essays and it has the quality of leaving the reader with hope, because the writer shows a way out. Underneath all the theory and history and science, everything boils down to politics. Leaders and governments need to produce real solutions to real problems.

➤ Pyongyang By Guy Delisle

A glimpse into one of the most secretive and mysterious nations in the world today: North Korea. It’s smart, sharply observed and funny, without downplaying the untold horrors that lurk around every corner. The book is a graphical record of the time cartoonist Guy Delisle. One of the few Westerners to witness current conditions in the surreal showcase city.

